This environment created a sense of urgency and unpredictability, making it difficult for even seasoned staffers to anticipate the next move. Interns, in particular, had to learn quickly how to adapt, often witnessing high-stakes meetings, sudden shifts in policy, or abrupt personnel changes.

Internal Power Struggles and Factionalism

The Trump administration was characterized by competing camps, such as the traditional conservative wing, the populist insurgents, and the personal advisors close to Trump himself. Interns often observed these factions vying for attention, leading to conflicts that sometimes spilled over publicly.

These internal disputes created a tense atmosphere, where loyalty and alliance-building became critical. Interns found themselves caught in the middle, sometimes asked to deliver messages or carry out tasks that reflected the ongoing power struggles.
