In this article, we will explore these themes to clarify the distinctions and connections between Jewish texts and the Christian New Testament.

The Hebrew Bible (Tanakh): The Core Sacred Texts of Judaism

To understand the context of "Jewish new testamentoe," it is essential to first understand the core texts of Judaism—the Tanakh.

What is the Tanakh?

The Tanakh is an acronym derived from its three main sections:

- The canon was solidified by Jewish scholars around the 2nd century CE.

- These texts form the foundation of Jewish religious life, law, and identity.

The New Testament, comprising the Gospels, letters, and apocalyptic writings, is central to Christianity. Jews traditionally do not accept it as sacred scripture, viewing it as a Christian development that emerged after the Second Temple period.

Jewish Messianic Movements

- Certain groups believe in a messianic figure and produce writings that seek to reveal new insights or revelations.
- These are not recognized as canonical but reflect ongoing spiritual explorations.
