Understanding the U.S. Citizenship Test (2018-2019)

What is the U.S. Citizenship Test?

The U.S. citizenship test, officially known as the naturalization test, is designed to assess an applicant's knowledge of American history, civics, and ability to communicate in English. It is a mandatory part of the naturalization process, and passing it is required to become a U.S. citizen.

The test comprises two main parts:

- An English language test, including speaking, reading, and writing components.
- A civics test, which covers knowledge about U.S. government, history, and integrated civic principles.

Changes and Consistency in 2018-2019

During 2018 and 2019, the test format largely remained consistent with previous years, though USCIS introduced a new set of questions in 2020. For the years in focus, applicants were asked up to 20 questions from a pool of 100 civics questions, and needed to answer six correctly to pass.

The English language requirements included:

- Speaking: The USCIS officer assesses speaking ability during the interview.
- Reading: Applicants must read one out of three sentences correctly.

- Writing: Applicants must write one out of three sentences correctly.

This period was characterized by a focus on accessible, straightforward testing standards to ensure applicants' ability to integrate and participate in American civic life.

Why Practice Is Critical for Success

Mastering English Language Skills

Since the test assesses English proficiency, regular practice improves reading, writing, and speaking abilities. This is especially important for applicants who may not have English as their first language.
